Volunteers Needed for The Polar Express™Children's Holiday Train Excursion Brecksville, Ohio - The National Park Service at Cuyahoga Valley National Park (CVNP) and Cuyahoga Valley Scenic Railroad (CVSR) are seeking volunteers to spread holiday cheer aboard The Polar Express™. This holiday program is based on Chris Van Allsburg's enchanting book The Polar Express™, a young boy's trip to the North Pole. Children, clad in pajamas, board the train in Akron or Independence and travel through Cuyahoga Valley National Park to hear the story of The Polar Express™, enjoy hot cocoa and cookies, and sing carols on their way to the North Pole. Through the train's windows, children see holiday characters, the silhouettes of elves hard at work, and Santa! Volunteers are needed to BE Santa, read the story, assist in creating a festive atmosphere in the car, serve cookies and hot cocoa, and more. Training will be provided. Be a part of this holiday tradition that creates lasting memories for children of northeast Ohio from Thursday, November 17 through Tuesday, December 20. For more information or to volunteer, contact Park Ranger Pamela Machuga at 330-657-1914 or pam_machuga@nps.gov.

Akron-area artist Arnold Tunstall's work captures the meaning of living in the Midwest. Viewers of his exhibit will certainly connect with the artist's roots. The exhibition entitled "Natural Elements" will open from 2 - 4 p.m. on Sunday, September 11 and run through Friday, November 4 at the John F. Seiberling Gallery. The gallery is located at 1403 West Hines Hill Road, within the Conservancy for Cuyahoga Valley National Park offices in Peninsula. The exhibit is free and open to the public. Tunstall sought a different path for his work to honor a personal hero John F. Seiberling. "I wanted to honor the legacy of Congressman Seiberling by looking at my past images of the natural world," Tunstall said. "He is probably the main reasons this beautiful park even exists." Contact 330-657-2909 or visit www.conservancyforcvnp.org. Weekend viewings can be set up by appointment.

Zygote is currently recruiting volunteers (interns) who would like to help out in the printshop-office for barter access to presses and facilities. Incentives like taking free classes, participating in group projects and being apart of a dynamic shop are benefits of this opportunity. We ask for 10 hours in exchange for shop access per month. We are able to work with all skill levels of people coming to the printmaking discipline. If interested, please contact: intern coordinator Elizabeth Emery at emeryspeaking@gmail.com

Looking to find weavers, spinners, rug hookers, knitters or quilters to volunteer their time at our event. The harvest fest is a wonderful old-fashioned family event that has antique cars, games, crafts, food, cloggers, pony rides etc. It takes place on October 2 from 1-5 and volunteers should plan to be there by 12:30 in order to get set-up. We have space available either outside in a tent or inside of the main farmhouse. Case-Barlow farm is located at 1931 Barlow Road in Hudson and their website is www.casebarlowfarm.com. Anyone interested contact me at 440-724-6709 or send an email to hheldman@windstream.net.

Gathering Room Exhibit - Diane Keske Talmadge - I have been drawing and painting for most of my life, now in its seventh decade, and teaching for the past several years. What inspires me to create is what I find visually pleasing and interesting in the world around me…a beautiful fall day, shadows dancing on the snow, the sun streaming in through a window onto shapes on a table, bright colored flowers, a tranquil farm scene, mountains in late afternoon, a still life arrangement of collected objects, the exciting way that light can transform patterns, the innocence of a child's expression…these are the subjects I attempt to capture and share…hopefully bringing a bit of joy and color into the lives of others. My favorite medium is traditional oils and my favorite subject is a portrait. I find painting to be a constantly exciting, satisfying and happy learning experience, which I pray will continue for yet another few decades!! Peninsula Art Academy Oil Painting Instructor, Diane Talmadge is having a solo show at the Richfield United Church of Christ, starting on September 6 thru September 30, 2011. The address is 4340 W. Streetsboro Rd. (Rt 303) Richfield, Ohio 44286. richfielducc.org The show is open daily during the week 9-3 and some afternoon and evening hours, please call for the schedule 330-659-3532. Expect to see more than 30 representational paintings, in oil and acrylic in her classic traditional style. Join us for an artist's reception, Sunday morning following church service, Sept 18th, 11:15 - 12:15. Diane is currently teaching drawing and oil painting at PAA. Contact the artist at 330-576-6836.
