Workshop Description:

This creative class using native aborigine designs will bring out some basic, but beautiful paintings. I combined the creativeness in pouring a few colors, over blocked out designs, using torn tape or masking fluid, and building up washes of color. No experience needed, just an instinct to use nature's gifts, such as pebble shapes in my painting, representing a riverbed. Each painting will tell a story, emerging from within.

Basic watercolor supply list on request at island1785@aol.com. Design ideas will be available to share, hope to see you in this unique class.
