Workshop Description:

Do you have half finished paintings sitting around? Don't know what to do next? Or something you want to paint but don't how to start? Then bring in your "problems", and your paints, and I will help you find the solutions. Oils, acrylics, pastels, or drawings. This is a fun workshop and we will all learn from each other as we all have varying "problems". Bring a sack lunch; snacks and drinks available at PAA. Open to teens and adults. Class size limited to 6:register early as space is limited - lots of personal attention for each painter, and lots of fun too. Learn to "see" differently to paint the affects of light on the subject to make your painting come to life. Bring your own supplies: the list is on our website or download here supply list Bring a lunch; snacks and drinks available at PAA.

A realist artist, Diane has the ability to capture the excitement as well as the softness of the subject when working from life or from photographic references.
She has been painting and exhibiting her oils, pastels and acrylics, for many years, and owned her own portrait studio/gallery in Florida, prior to returning to Ohio in 2004. She began her formal training with Jack Richards in her native Cuyahoga Falls, continuing at Ohio State University, then with Christopher Clark and Marilyn Bendell in Florida, and Daniel Greene in Rockport, Mass. Dozens of her portraits and paintings hang in public buildings and private collections throughout the country.
