Workshop Description:

During the Renaissance and in the following centuries, through and including the 19th Century, Silverpoint was very familiar to artists and society in general. The famous artists who used it: Michelangelo, Da Vinci, Durer, to mention a few. Essentially it is drawing with sterling silver wire. Permanent? Yes. Exquisite? Definitely. Small in size? Yes. Silverpoint works very nicely on special surfaces 6" x8 " and smaller. Over time the silver oxidizes, as silver will, and goes from a silvery gray to a tea colored brown. Albrecht Durer's "Praying Hands", 16th Century German is a familiar example. It's done on treated paper and is easy to do. Join us and try your hand at this exciting antique technique. Bring your materials, list below. Minimum 4 students - maximum 12.
